About Becky

Becky lives in the Greater St. Louis area and is a SAHM to her step-daughter Zoe. She's a part-time photographer, and she's a first born. She believes that control is an illusion but that chaos can be managed. She functions better with a plan, and in an organized environment. A fact that her cats find terribly amusing. It was the beginning of 2014 when Becky figured out life is a Do-It-Yourself job. Having hit rock bottom, she started putting her life back together and has organized the life she always dreamed of.
